

LASC 254: Liberal Arts & Sciences Capstone Final Project

A World of Your Own Design

For your final project, you will create a poster presentation providing an audience with a brief synopsis of the unified world you have designed through the three modules in the Liberal Arts and Sciences Capstone course.

The final poster will be composed of three different panels, in modular order. Information for each panel will come from each of the modules and will provide an explanation of how they come together to form a coherent apocalyptic/dystopian world.

You may use any of the major assignments you completed during one of modules as the basis for your poster. For example, if you wrote your assignments in the Social Construction module on an environmental disaster that led to a virus, that would be your first panel. After you travel to the Infectious Disease module, your second panel would provide more detail on the disease and the plan you created for its spread. Finally, after your Literary Dystopias module, your third panel could elaborate on some of the setting, characters, or a specific situation that arises for those who live in this world.

Please use the attached rubric to guide the creation of your poster. The purpose of this assignment is to showcase your ability to integrate knowledge and skills across disciplines, a hallmark capstone skill of our Liberal Arts & Sciences major.
